Advice to My Younger Self: The Benefits of Learning Project Management Early in Life, Pt. 2

We all have our share of life advice and lessons learned. But what if you could give some advice to your younger self? In the spirit of graduation season, we interviewed some of PMIEF's most prominent community members to hear their thoughts on why it's critical for youth to learn project management skills early in life.

A Kerzner Award Winner Shares Why Teaching PM Skills to Youth is 'Essential'

The Kerzner Award is one of the most prestigious accolades in the project management community – and we're honored to recognize those excelling in the PM field. In this article, we caught up with Sudhakar Ravada, accomplished PMP and previous Kerzner Award recipient, to discuss how the award helped advance his leadership skills and why we need to teach youth PM skills.

Have You Pledged Your Hours for the Celebration of PMI's 50th Anniversary?

While our refreshed strategy focuses on helping youth through youth serving nonprofits, here at PMIEF, we believe all social good is good. We want to encourage you to pledge your hours in honor of PMI's 50th Anniversary celebration. If your chapter has an ongoing social good project in the pipeline that aligns with the UN's Sustainable Development Goals \(SDGs\), you can pledge your hours now to showcase your efforts and help PMI reach their goal of 50,000 hours. It's quick and easy – head over to PMI's Global Celebration of Service page to learn more today!

PS – Need help deciding if your social good work aligns with one of the UN's SDGs? You can find more information here and get answers to your questions here.

Looking to Take the Next Step in Your Career?

Are you excelling in the project management field and want to tell the world about it? We can help. Follow Sudhakar Ravada's lead and apply for the prestigious Kerzner Award for Excellence in Project Management today. But hurry – the deadline is 15 May.
