2015 Highlights from London!

On Saturday, 9 May 2015 PMIEF hosted an educational session where attendees learned how three PMI chapters have used PMIEF resources and support to deliver project management training to school-aged children and nonprofit organizations. It was fascinating to hear how project managers from Ireland to Lebanon to the USA are leveraging project management for social good in their communities!

Among the presenters were Marcel Abi Nassif, PMP, PMI

Lebanon Chapter, Jackie Glynn, PMI Ireland Chapter, Aisleigh McGann, PMI Chicagoland Chapter and Alan Mills, Chair, PMI Educational Foundation.

Aisleigh McGann, spoke about the partnerships her chapter has formed with local nonprofit organizations in Chicago like Windy City Habitat for Humanity, Ladies of Virtue (LOV), Black Diamond Charities, Salvation Army, and Feed my Starving Children. She explained the benefits of connecting with local non-profit organizations and providing project management support to help them accomplish their mission.

For example, the Ladies of Virtue organization hosts a program in partnership with local PMI volunteers called LOV CARES. This is a youth led service learning program in which youth learn project management and lead a project that is beneficial to the community. This is just one great example we heard about.

Other activities in London included numerous meetings with donors and a celebration of PMIEF's accomplishments, which occurred during the PMIEF Reception on Sunday night.
