

PMIEF partners to promote PM as a 21st century skill, plus PMIEF packs up for a trip to Florida.

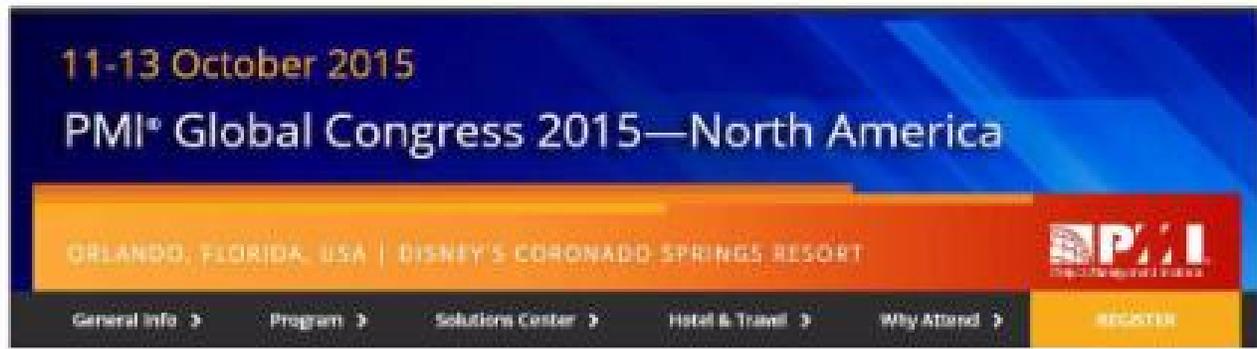

PMIEF and P21 develop project-based learning curriculum for the 21st century

"The world runs on projects... Managing and leading projects are essential life skills, learning skills, and career skills." --21st Century Skills Map

This year, PMIEF has worked with the Partnership for 21st Century Learning (P21) to foster more project-based learning in classrooms around the world. PMIEF has facilitated this process by awarding a grant to the P21 network with the goal of producing a toolkit of guidelines and materials for educators. The full publication, entitled "Bringing Project Management Into the School Transformation Conversation" is available on P21's website.

Bringing Project Management into the School Transformation Conversation was designed to provide tools to help educators bring project-based learning to their students.

PMIEF sets off for PMI Global Congress 2015 - North America

Are you headed to PMI Global Congress--North America? See you there! Visit with PMIEF to learn updates, view resources, and meet staff and volunteers.

Our kiosk during the PMI Leadership Institute Meeting (LIM) is located in Leader's Edge, in Fiesta 5-6.

Join Allan Mills, Chair, PMIEF Board of Directors, and his panel as they present on "Engaging Youth and Non-Profit Organizations to Build the Future of Project Management in Your Community" on October 8, from 4:30 PM - 5:45 PM.

Don't forget to register for our Community Service Project, a co-sponsored event between PMI and PMIEF to package thousands of nutrient-rich meals to be delivered to the world's most undernourished areas.

Our booth at PMI Global Congress - North America (GCNA) is 3306 in the Solutions Center.

We'd love to see you there!
